Week Without Violence works to raise awareness about community based transformative justice initiatives working to transform harm and end colonial, systemic, institutional, intimate partner violence and all forms of violence that disproportionately impact Black, Indigenous, girls, women and TGNC people of color. We will be uplifting the work of local organizations working on the frontlines for housing, immigrant and transformative justice & collective liberation. Together, we are committed to building a world without violence where our communities are healthy, safe and free.
